Erasmus Mundus Joint Master Degree in Economics of Globalisation and European Integration

A 2-year study programme for a Global Career

Why choose EGEI?

Are you interested in research, a job in government, in an international organization or a research and strategy centre? If so, it's a good idea to choose this 2-year master's degree programme in economics.

When you complete this study successfully, you earn the Erasmus Mundus Joint Master Degree in Economics of Globalisation and European Integration. The diplomas are awarded jointly by all the partner universities. In 2020 the Master has been selected by the European Commission as an Erasmus Mundus Master's Course.

Programme

- The master's program has a workload of 120 ECTS credits: a taught part of 90 credits, an internship of 10 credits and a dissertation of 20 credits.
- The study program is full-time and runs over 24 months. It is taught by staff of the eight partner institutions and by high-profile visiting scholars. During the 2 years, students move as a group to at least three different universities in three different countries.

- Final dissertation (20 credits)

How to apply?

Applying: you must complete and submit the on-line application form on www.master-egei.eu.

Diploma: open to students who have earned 180 ECTS credits in an economics or applied economics university study programme, or have a bachelor's degree considered equivalent by the Joint Studies Board.

Students in the final year of your academic programme should submit an official letter in English from their university confirming that they are expected to finalise their degree at the end of the current academic year, and submit up-to-date authenticated transcripts of results for each year of study.

English: Students should submit proof of an internet-based TOEFL level of a minimum of 90 (or its equivalent in another scoring system), or an IELTS grade of least 6.5, or submit proof of having studied at least one academic year in an English-language programme. For students from one of the partner universities, English skills can be checked by the local academic coordinator. The proficiency in English of applicants can be checked also during the selection process by the Selection Committee by means of direct interviews or through the administration of tests.

Selection: The selection criteria are common to all students and primarily related to study results.

Deadlines:

- For those who want to apply for an Erasmus Mundus scholarship, the deadline is 15 February 2022.
- Otherwise, the application deadline is the end of March 2022 if you need a visa or the end of May if you don't.

How much it costs?

Tuition fee: 2,500 euros per year for students from Erasmus+ programme countries (all EU and European Economic Area); 8,000 euros per year for students from Erasmus+ partner countries (non-European countries).

In addition to tuition fees, students should also budget for travel, accommodation, food and study materials.

Scholarships: 15 Erasmus Mundus (EM) student scholarships are available. Non-European students can apply for a 'Partner country' EM scholarship, while European students can apply for a 'Programme country' EM scholarship. For more information, please consult the Erasmus+ pages. European students may be eligible for an Erasmus Student Mobility grant.

Tuition discounts: A limited number of tuition discounts are available for non-scholarship students from developing countries on the basis of academic merit. Other forms of financial support might be available. For more information, please consult the EGEI website (www.master-egei.eu).
